

Pelvic Study Day

21st September 2023

Royal College of Surgeons Lincoln's Inn Fields, London WC2A 3PE with hybrid remote access

10:00	Introduction- What is the RCSE SSL programme? <ol style="list-style-type: none"> 1. Mr Stephen Dobbs, Consultant gynaecological oncologist, President of BGCS 2. Professor Peter Hutchinson, Professor of Neurosurgery, University of Cambridge
10:30	Session # 1: <ol style="list-style-type: none"> 1. Multi-disciplinary implementation of the Lynch pathway - Miss Helen Bolton, Consultant gynaecological oncologist, Cambridge University Hospital 2. Translational studies in endometrial cancer - Associate Professor Esther Moss, University Hospitals of Leicester
11:15	Discussion and coffee
12:00	Session # 2: <ol style="list-style-type: none"> 1. HIPEC - technique, current evidence and implementation Mr Ioannis Kotsopoulos, Consultant gynaecological oncologist, University College London Hospitals 2. PIPAC study - PICCOS study Miss Sadie Jones, Consultant gynaecological oncologist, Cardiff and Vale UHB
12:45	Discussion and lunch
14:00	Session # 3: <ol style="list-style-type: none"> 1. Central pelvic resection for vaginal melanoma Mr Pubudu Pathiraja, Consultant gynaecological oncologist, Cambridge University Hospitals

	2. Current challenges and role of exenterative surgery in gynaecological oncology Mr Desmond Barton, Consultant gynaecological oncologist, The Royal Marsden
14:45	Session # 4: Multidisciplinary Research in Abdomino-pelvic Surgery- Setting our priorities together Dr Elaine Leung, Cheltenham Subspecialty Trainee (Gynaecological Oncology)
15:00	Discussion and coffee
16:00	Conclusion